Representatives Say at American Capital.

MILITARY FORCES GROW FORMIDABLE

Request for Kellogg to Enter Military Alliance
Is Forwarded by Diaz
Government.

BY ALFRED P. RECK.
Washington, February 21.—(United News.)—"The revolution is over. We cannot fight the United States," representatives in Washington of Dr. Sacasa, Nicaraguan liberal leader, remarked tonight as America moved with an impressive display of military force to crush all semblances of revolt in war-torn Nicaragua.

"The United States has beaten us, not Dr. Diaz. All that we can hope for now is the opportunity of quitting with honor."

Meanwhile a request for the United States to enter into a form of military alliance with Nicaragua was en route from the Diaz government to Washington, it was learned by the United News.

The proposal is said to be a modified form of the alliance provided for in the new United States-Panama treaty, recently rejected by the Panamanian legislature, and attacked as a violation of native sovereignty.

Certain American officials are said to favor a Nicaraguan treaty for the protection of special American rights on the same basis now made effective by the occupation troops.

Grew Is Silent.
Acting Secretary of State Grew declined to comment upon the proposal but said that American Minister Elberhard received a note written by President Diaz at Managua on February 20, the text of which is being forwarded to the United States by mail. Until its receipt, the state department will not discuss it.

Representatives and friends of the liberal government in Nicaragua were dumfounded at what they term the trickery of Admiral Latimer, commander of American forces in the Central American republic, as more than 3,200 sailors and marines started in special details to throw a network of outposts at every strategic point from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Rushing to join in the bloodless penetration were 1,400 marines from Atlantic seaport stations and 200 marines aboard the cruiser Trenton from Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

Admiral Latimer's conference with Dr. Sacasa was not for the purpose of securing a compromise, "but was simply a move to gain time for further entrenchment of American occupation troops."

All of Dr. Sacasa's ambitions have been crushed. The state department in the one bold move of virtual nationalization, which is being carried out with the approval of President Diaz, leader of the conservative government.

Despite possibilities of bitter senatorial opposition, the administration decided upon the sweeping action, after advice from Admiral Latimer, to end further strife and thereby completely protect American and foreign lives and property.

Admiral Latimer advised the navy department today that additional landing parties of sailors and marines have been ordered from cruisers and destroyers to guard the railroad from Corinto to Managua, the capital.

MARINES TO PROCEED TO SCENE OF FIGHTING.

Managua, Nicaragua, February 21.—(United News.)—United States marines are ready to proceed to Managua, 20 miles south-east of Managua, which was the scene of an engagement between conservative and liberal forces this evening. Some of the wounded have been brought to Managua.

Chamber Proposes To Help Farmers By Tax Exemption

MORRIS IS TAKEN OFF SCHOOL BOARD BY COUNCIL VOTE

Commissioner Will Carry Appeal to Courts, Contending He Is First Ward Resident.

By vote of 23 to 6, city council Monday afternoon sustained a report filed by a special examining committee which ousts Dr. Fred Morris as member of the board of education from the first ward. The recommendation that the position of Dr. Morris be declared vacant was based on the ground that he is not a resident of the first ward, but lives at Forest Park in Clayton county.

After council had voted to follow the recommendation of the special examining committee composed of Councilmen Ellis B. Barrett and Hiram Russell and Aldermen Charles Murphy, notice was given council by Dr. Morris that he will appeal the action to the courts.

The movement to declare vacant the post held as member of the board of education from the first ward was launched by Alderman R. F. Pennington, of that ward. The special committee was named recently to investigate the situation and determine the place of Dr. Morris' residence. This committee reported that it had reached the conclusion that Dr. Morris' real residence was in Forest Park and not in the first ward.

In a statement to council, Dr. Morris said he had lived in the first ward since 1915 and pays taxes in that ward. He said the home he uses in Forest Park is a temporary home. He said he would present his claims of residency in the first ward to the courts for adjudication.

Those voting for the ouster proposal were Aldermen Pennington, Ashby, Couch, Williamson and Murphy, Councilmen Wardlaw, Turner, McCutcheon, Huie, Chosewood, Barrett, Bowden, York, Osburn, Moore, Orme, Reynolds, Russell, Savage, Callaway, Suddeth, Johnson and Smith.

Those who voted against it were Aldermen Moon, Hartsfield, Gann, Ford and House and Councilman Cooper.

No steps to name a successor were taken at the meeting Monday. The paper will go to Mayor I. N. Ragsdale today for consideration.

ITALIAN AVIATOR STARTS ON FLIGHT TO SOUTH AMERICA

Porto Praia, Cape Verde Islands, February 22.—(United News.)—Colonel Francesco De Pinedo, Italian fascist aviator, left the island of the northwest coast of Africa at 11:30 a. m. today on a non-stop flight across the Atlantic ocean.

De Pinedo, in his big two-motored Savoia hydroplane, headed for Natal, Brazil, the nearest point on the South American continent, approximately 1,900 miles away. He hoped to arrive by night.

After final adjustments had been made, the engines were started up and the plane moved along the water, gaining momentum until it left the surface and glided swiftly into the air.

Despite possibilities of bitter senatorial opposition, the administration decided upon the sweeping action, after advice from Admiral Latimer, to end further strife and thereby completely protect American and foreign lives and property.

Admiral Latimer advised the navy department today that additional landing parties of sailors and marines have been ordered from cruisers and destroyers to guard the railroad from Corinto to Managua, the capital.

Amendment to the state constitution exempting "dirt farmers from taxes on their lands and equipment up to $5,000 in assessed value was proposed by the agriculture committee of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce Monday afternoon as the only practical solution of farming conditions. The committee estimated that such enactment would completely exempt from taxation 90 per cent of all Georgia farmers.

Following adoption of the plan by the agricultural committee, a motion was passed for appointment of a special committee of ten men to work out the necessary details. J. S. Kennedy, chairman of the agricultural committee, is to act as chairman of the special committee, which he will appoint later.

"It has been definitely demonstrated in various counties of Georgia, and notably in Turner and Tift counties, that diversified agriculture on what is known as the cow-hog-hen plan of the Georgia association has brought prosperity wherever it has been put into effect," read a resolution passed Monday unanimously by city council, "supplying a sharp contrast with conditions on farms where the system inherited from an older day, of all-cotton farming has been followed."

The paper was offered by Aldermen Claude Ashley, W. Guy Dobbs and J. Allen Couch and Councilman Frank Callaway.

"The great trouble underlying agriculture in Georgia," declared Ivan E. Allen, chairman of the Forward Atlanta commission and originator of the proposed solution, "is the tenant farm and absentee land owner system which predominates agriculture in this state."

INVISIBLE EMPIRE SCORED BY JUDGE

"There Is No Place
Among White Men for Invisible Empire," Judge
Hardeman Tells Jury.

LYONS, Ga., February 21.—(AP)—Declaring that there is no place among white men for an invisible empire, and expressing his willingness to lay down his life in the cause of liberty and justice, Judge R. N. Hardeman began a special term of superior court here today with a forceful charge before the Toombs county grand jury.

The judge began his charge by eulogizing Toombs county and its citizenry. He traced the development of American civilization and the price in lives that it cost our forefathers. He declared that the right of freedom and liberty was the sacred heritage handed down by the founders of the American republic.

"I declare before God and man that these sons will not surrender it but will preserve it with all their strength," he said.

Judge Hardeman declared the whipping post was abolished by the Anglo-Saxon and asked, "Will it be reestablished in Georgia? I tell you, no! I never liked the words 'imperial' and 'empire' as applied to government, and God knows there is no place among white men for invisible empires."

Addressing the members of the grand jury, he said there was no power in the constitution or laws which they could not exercise, and sitting in secret they could make any investigation and find any bill they saw fit, adding, "Are there men out yonder in Toombs county who, with covered faces, not under oath, can do more righteously or justly than you? You can't indict without evidence, yet men can cover their faces, sit in the Altamaha swamp and indict and do more than you have a right to do."

Whether there still remains the possibility of formulating a three-power understanding to limit auxiliary craft between Great Britain, the United States and Japan in what might be called a regional agreement appeared to depend upon the British attitude. The Tokyo government has accepted the original five-power proposal and London alone remains to be heard from.

Blunt Language Used.
The Italian reply stated Italy's objections in such blunt fashion that there seemed little room for clearing up misunderstandings of the American proposals such as those Secretary Kellogg has indicated he saw in the French refusal. The Italian language, however, is open to the construction that the Rome government believed the Washington proposal contemplated a reduction in cruiser, destroyer and submarine strength whereas it specifically proposed only the establishment of tonnage limitations in each class of ships and left the question of Italian and French ratios untouched even by an implication that they should follow the ratios fixed for those countries in the Washington treaty and applying to capital ships and aircraft carriers.

Some Washington observers believe that the discussion of the American regional agreement plan for arms limitation before the Geneva preparatory commission on disarmament will lead quite naturally toward an attempt last week to put it into effect, the part of the three naval powers maintaining high seas fleets even if the two Mediterranean powers cannot see their way to joining in such a movement.

Proposals, admittedly, would face difficulties, and present particularly to Great Britain, because of her close proximity to continental Europe.

Declaring that thus far the citizens advisory committee has acted only in a negative capacity and that it has not yet offered any constructive policy to the board of education, Dr. R. M. Eubanks, president of the board, Monday night declared that the citizens body has moral obligations which are just as binding as those of the board of education.

The statement was aimed at recent rejection by the committee of the 1927 revised budget, submitted by the board in accordance with an agreement last fall, which placed expenditures of the school department under the supervision of the committee.

Dr. Eubanks also expressed disappointment that the committee has offered thus far no practical solution of our immediate school problem. The statement was made on the eve of a meeting of the board of education called for 3 o'clock this afternoon in the administration building, at which the board will reconsider the budget and a plan devised by a joint committee from the board and the school committee of city council, designed to put the schools on a "living basis."

At the same time Mrs. Julia O'Keefe Nelson, commissioner from the sixth ward, declared that she never would agree to abolishing kindergartens while eight negro night schools are kept open, in accordance with recommendations of the citizens committee.

Growing Dissatisfaction.
Although Dr. Eubanks did not state definitely just what position he would take, it was intimated that there is persistent, and growing dissatisfaction on the part of the board relative to the policy of the committee in rejecting summarily the budget and in making other demands on the board, without having invited members of the board to discuss jointly with them problems of the system.

City Attorney James L. Mayson has held that the agreement between the board and the committee is purely a moral one without legal standing, and though members of the board declare they are willing to comply with any

Washington, February 21.—(AP)—Italy's rejection of the American five power naval conference plan, based upon the same viewpoint that guided France in taking similar action, reached Washington tonight and apparently definitely ended any hope the Washington administration may have had of reaching an ultimate agreement among the five powers.

Whether there still remains the possibility of formulating a three-power understanding to limit auxiliary craft between Great Britain, the United States and Japan in what might be called a regional agreement appeared to depend upon the British attitude. Building operations throughout the southeastern states should be carried on in 1927 along normal proportions, which means substantial improvement over the previous year, in the opinion of Truman S. Morgan, president of the F. W. Dodge corporation, of New York, who is in Atlanta inspecting local offices of his company.

M. Morgan is head of a company which compiles information of building operations for large contractors, architects and builders throughout the country, and stated Monday to The Constitution that figures submitted by his staff in the southeast indicate a much better year in building than experienced last year.

"It is my firm belief that the period of stress which struck some parts of the south last year is entirely over and the course of business now is upward," Mr. Morgan said.

One of the causes of slackness in Georgia certainly was the collapse of the Florida boom but the period of readjustment in Florida is well under way and things are going to get better in that state in a business way. The state of Florida has lost none of its assets and was purely the victim of over-inflation. As far as investments in that state are concerned I certainly would prefer to invest there now than at the height of the prosperity boom which struck the state two years ago.

In the figures compiled in our office show that building activity is rapidly approaching normal, and by normal I mean a good year. I find conditions here in Atlanta much improved over what I found one year ago. It is not my business to say anything that is not justified by figures and our statistics show beyond question that business conditions in Atlanta are steadily and rapidly improving. If these figures showed anything else I would not hesitate to say so.

COAL CONFEREES FAIL TO AGREE

Miami, Fla., February 21.—(AP)—The second stage of the soft coal wage negotiations here has failed to bring an agreement for a new contract to replace the Jacksonville draft of 1924 and many conferees believed tonight that the fate of the present parity would be known definitely tomorrow. The sub-committee of the joint conference of miners and operators of the unionized central bituminous field which took over diverse proposals from the open conference on last Wednesday, has adjourned with the announcement that it was unable to reconcile the conflicting demands. It will report its failure to the joint conference which will be convened at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. The conference will pass on the report and make further announcements.

Carolina Leader Of Klan Resigns; Assails Wizard

Raleigh, February 21.—(AP)—The Raleigh News and Observer will say tomorrow that Judge Henry A. Grady, for four years grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan for North Carolina, has resigned from the Klan. The paper will say that Judge Grady resigned yesterday because of alleged attempted coercion to "obtain by subterfuge the passage of what he regarded as iniquitous legislation in the North Carolina general assembly. "Under the legislation which the imperial wizard undertook to dictate and which brought bitter denunciation from Judge Grady, membership in the Catholic church or in the Knights of Columbus would become a felony and marriages between members of Protestant churches would be forbidden, when attended by any agreement as to rearing children," the news paper will say. A letter said to have been written by Judge Grady to Dr. Evans today is quoted by The News and Observer: "It is a far cry from this obligation (the oath) which you and all other Klansmen have taken to the silly, unseemly and unconstitutional measures which you and your advisers are attempting to foist upon the people of a liberty loving state."

$1,979,200 GIVEN FOR STATE ROADS

Georgia leads all southern states except Texas in the allotment of federal aid road funds for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1927, and ending June 30, 1928, according to figures received at the office of the state highway department Monday. The allotment for Georgia for that year is $1,979,200. Texas, which is many times larger than Georgia in area, received an allotment of $4,497,000. Allotments for southern states were announced as follows: Alabama, $1,547,220; Arkansas, $1,277,896; Florida, $899,451; Georgia, $1,979,200; Kentucky, $1,417,947; Louisiana, $1,013,308; Mississippi, $1,307,879; North Carolina, $1,713,356; South Carolina, $1,054,988; Tennessee, $1,614,766; Texas, $4,497,272; and Virginia, $1,442,714.

Ex-Soldiers Trapped In Alleged Scheme To Get Compensation

Two ex-soldiers found themselves in the toils of the law Monday as a result of an alleged fraudulent scheme to secure compensation money from the government. The defendants, John B. Flynn and Harlin T. Walters, of Atlanta, were held for the United States grand jury by United States Commissioner L. S. Ledbetter under $300 bond each. Evidence gathered by department of justice agents and presented to Judge Ledbetter showed that Flynn, after leaving the hospital, had induced Walters to make a false affidavit to the effect that he had given Flynn employment, so that Flynn could draw compensation from the government. Walters admitted before Judge Ledbetter that the affidavit was false.

WARFIELD FETTERED BY FLORIDA CITIES

St. Petersburg, Fla., February 21.—(Special.)—S. Davies Warfield, president of the Seaboard Air Line railway, was recipient of high honors today at St. Petersburg. The day was declared a holiday by Mayor Pearce as "Warfield day" in commemoration of services rendered by Warfield in his pioneer railroad construction and development work in Florida.

A luncheon was served at the Hotel Vinoy attended by mayors and public officials of St. Petersburg and other cities and communities from Pinellas and other counties and prominent men from St. Petersburg, at which Mr. Warfield was the guest of honor.

A public meeting was held in Williams park in the afternoon, Mayor Pearce presiding at which Mr. Warfield made an address. At the meeting in the park there were more than 15,000 people present.

At a banquet given by the chamber of commerce at the Palais Royal tonight, Warfield made an address discussing among other subjects, the recent wage increase of 7 1/2 per cent asked by the leaders of trainmen and conductors of all the railroads of the country, especially as it applied to the southeastern group of carriers, the Seaboard railway being one of the group.

Among other things, Warfield said: "The Seaboard Air Line railway is completing 500 miles of new railroad in Florida, more railroad construction than in any other state taken collectively in the same period of time. This has involved large expenditure. I have sold within 20 months $30,000,000 of Seaboard securities, including $7,000,000 recently sold, a total of $37,000,000. A large part of the proceeds has been spent in Florida in pioneer construction and in additions and betterments to the Seaboard system to care for increase in traffic.

"Because of statements by me respecting further construction and extension you should know that the Seaboard railway will now curtail its constructive program owing to recent heavy wage increases.

"The recent settlement of wage increase in the eastern group of 45 railroads and more recently in the 19 railroads and three terminal companies comprising the southeastern railroad group, our group, and now under discussion in the western group of 76 railroads has a significance which I do not believe is at all understood. It is the first settlement of these questions under the railway labor act passed by congress in 1926. The methods employed in reaching a settlement in the southeastern railroad group displayed either lack of decision or understanding by the so-called board mediation provided in the act which was appointed by President Coolidge, of the purposes of congress, or the act itself is incompetent in dealing with questions of so far-reaching a nature."

ASSOCIATION PLANS FACTORY FOR BLIND

Plans for the immediate establishment of an industrial plant and training shop for the blind were discussed at the mid-year session of the executive board of the Georgia Association of Workers for the Blind Monday in the office of the president, Paul Donegan, 303 Georgia Savings Bank building.

The program for the annual convention of the association, to be held in Atlanta on June 7-8, was arranged by the executive board, which attended the meeting in full. Besides considering industrial conditions confronting the blind, place has been provided on the annual convention program for discussion of sight conservation and prevention of blindness. Approximately 100 persons are expected to attend the convention.

EDUCATION DRIVE TO COMBAT DOPE IS OPENED HERE

Observance of Narcotic Education week, described by federal narcotic agents as one of the most powerful offensives ever launched against the crime wave, began Monday with a national program of educational appeal through newspapers, on motion picture screens, over the radio in schoolrooms.

The International Narcotic Education association, Richmond, Pearson Hobson, president, is in charge of the week's drive against dope. Estimates by the treasury department show the existence of anywhere from 1,000,000 to 4,000,000 addicts in the United States.

Ninety per cent of addicts arrested have criminal records, including anything from homicide to petty thievery, the association says. Heroin is the cause of a great many deaths and sensational crimes, the effect of the drug being to lead the victim to banditry and crimes of violence, it was stated.

LOUISIANA BERRIES EXPECTED HERE SOON

Florida's corner on the early strawberry market will be crowded this week-end by Louisiana, the local federal bureau of agriculture predicts in its weekly market report today. The berries will begin moving in carlots from the Bayou State by March 1, the report states, but heavy shipments will not start until later in the month. Louisiana is expected to roll about 3,000 cars of berries this season, it was said.

Besides smaller lots by express, Florida is now forwarding ten to twelve cars of berries daily, the report said. Under the heavier receipts, prices of Florida berries were reported to have declined to the moderate jobbing range of 40-75 cents quart basis.

Unfavorable weather of last week was reflected in both fruit and vegetable markets, the report said, produce markets being unsettled with prices of most lines either steady or tending downward.

FARMING EFFICIENCY SHOWN BY SAWTELL

Efficiency in farming was demonstrated to a party of 125 prominent Atlantans, who visited the farm of T. R. Sawtell, on the old Jonesboro road, Sunday afternoon. The practicability of raising all crops in season in the red clay soil of Georgia was visibly proven. In addition, feed for the live stock kept on the farm was raised "at home" and flowers and shrubbery beautified the farm. The party was started to find machinery 25 and 30 years old in good operating condition. Under the ordinary care given farm implements kept in good condition.

Young Man, Go South, Is Best Advice Today, Declares Hoke Smith

Prosperity of the south during the past 25 years is as nothing compared to the prosperity that should follow in the immediate future, was the declaration Monday night of former Senator Hoke Smith to the women's division of the chamber of commerce at its regular February dinner-meeting at the Chamber of Commerce building. The meeting was featured by a musical program arranged by Mrs. Theodore Morgan-Stephens, musical chair man for the division.

Northeast Gives Up 20 Dead To Storms on Land and Sea

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.) With fair weather forecast for today the northeastern states began the sad reckoning of what the winter's most ferocious blizzard had cost—in dollars and in human life.

A score of lives were known to have been lost on land and sea, and it was feared the total would be far larger before the gale had run its course. Millions of dollars of damages were known to have been done by wind and flood and wave.

Last night, despite continued snow in some sections, the full fury of the storm had abated on land, although at sea men still were fighting for their lives, or for the lives of others.

The death list, as computed by The Associated Press last night, showed that eight men had lost their lives when a coast guard boat went down off Cape Cod; four men died of exposure ashore in New England; four died in Pittsburgh; a bargeman was drowned off Ambrose Light; a boy fell off an icy roof to his death in New York; the officer of a Danish vessel was drowned in a rescue attempt off New Jersey, and a body was washed ashore at South Amboy, N. J. Army Air Lieutenants Gray and Harris, of Langley Field, Va., believed to have crashed on the Jersey coast in the fog which preceded the storm, had not been heard from and their death was considered a certainty.

Aside from this, an empty fishing smack, such as is usually manned by five men, drifted up the Jersey

Auto 'Saturation Point' Myth, Says Nash, in City For Dealer Convention

President of Big Auto Manufacturing Plant Expects Designing Trend to Smaller Cars.

There is no such thing as "the saturation point" in automobile production and with many new markets opening for American machines in all parts of the world, the future of the automobile industry is bright, according to C. W. Nash, president of the Nash Automobile Company of Kenosha, Wis., who is in Atlanta attending a meeting of Nash dealers in the southeast. Mr. Nash is the guest of Robert H. Martin, head of the Martin-Nash company, of Atlanta.

"There is no saturation point in shoes, for instance, and although I have heard many people talk of the saturation point in automobile production, I have never yet heard any person explain what that term means. The building of more and better highways throughout the country, the steady expansion of business and the opening of foreign fields will keep the industry stabilized."

The biggest problems in connection with the use of automobiles are the parking problem in cities and the traffic congestion on highways on Sundays and holidays, in the opinion of Mr. Nash. He said solution of this problem was of far greater importance than worrying about a possible "saturation point" in the industry.

Experts Good Year.

Mr. Nash talked optimistically of future business conditions. "We will do a fairly good business this year," he said. "We don't expect to do anything phenomenal, but we expect to enjoy good and substantial operations through the year. We are paying particular attention to our export business this year and although handicapped somewhat by tariffs and duties we expect to do our share of this business. There is no questioning the fact that American automobiles are absolutely dominating foreign markets in spite of duties and restrictions."

The most radical change in automobile design, in the belief of Mr. Nash, will be the cutting down in size of the machines.

"Smaller machines built with the same kind of chassis and running gear will be the policy of manufacturers in the future," he said.

Conditions in the southeast are rapidly readjusting themselves, in the opinion of Mr. Nash, who has kept in close touch with them through his agencies.

"Florida collapse was a blow but the recovery is rapid," he said. "Florida still has all its assets and undoubtedly will become one of the good business states of the union. It is still the playground and rest and recreation center of the United States and consequently will return to a stable condition quickly."

Mr. Nash is one of the foremost figures in the automobile world. He was head of the Buick company for many years and prior to that time operated a large carriage works. Later he was an executive of General Motors and left that company to head his own concern manufacturing the Nash automobile.

During his stay in Atlanta, Mr. Nash made a talk to Nash dealers of the Atlanta territory who are here with Mr. Minerva as host.

Mr. Nash is accompanied by Mrs. Nash. They will go to Miami from Atlanta.

SARTAIN, REIHL ABANDON FIGHT TO ESCAPE PEN

Iron gates of the Atlanta federal penitentiary on March 3 will swing open to receive Albert E. Sartain, former warden of the prison, as an inmate of the state institution over which he once presided. With Sartain will be Lawrence "Heinie" Reihl, with whom he was convicted on charges of conspiracy to accept bribes from wealthy prisoners in exchange for soft jobs.

That Sartain and Reihl have abandoned their long fight for freedom and will serve their sentences of 18 months and a year and a day, respectively, became known definitely Monday following a conference between District Attorney Clint W. Hager and Hooper Alexander, attorney for Sartain.

Hager, on receipt of the formal mandate from the court of appeals in New Orleans, in which Sartain and Reihl were denied a rehearing of their appeal from federal district court, set March 3 as the date for the two men to begin their sentences.

Sartain's tenure of office as warden of the penitentiary was brief, lasting little more than a year. He was sworn in as warden on November 1, 1923, and ousted on December 11, 1924.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD MONDAY FOR DR. CALHOUN

Funeral services for Dr. J. E. Calhoun, 48, prominent physician of Dubuque, Iowa, and former resident of Atlanta, who died Sunday morning at the home of his mother, Mrs. J. R. Calhoun, of 122 Georgia avenue, were held Monday afternoon at the residence. The Rev. W. E. Davis, of the city, officiated and the body was sent to Dubuque for interment.

A native of Atlanta, Dr. Calhoun entered the University of Mississippi after completing his early education here. After graduating from Mississippi, he returned to this city and entered the medical school at Emory university.

Dr. Calhoun moved to Dubuque about 10 years ago. He was a member of the Westminster Presbyterian church and also was a Shriner.

He is survived by his wife, a sister, Miss Katie L. Calhoun, and two brothers, Dr. Herbert Calhoun, of Denver, Col., and H. W. Calhoun.

Mr. Miles' declaration was in answer to report that the sale already had been made.

MOTORCYCLE OFFICER INJURED IN COLLISION

J. A. Bailey, motorcycle policeman, was injured when knocked from his motorcycle at Forrest avenue and Cleveland street by an automobile driven by W. E. Cates, of 134 Currier street, Sunday night.

According to reports made to Captain A. J. Holcombe, Bailey was riding east on Forrest avenue, while Cates was driving in the opposite direction, and they crashed when Cates attempted to turn south into Courtland street. Bailey was given first aid treatment at Grady hospital, where an X-ray examination was made to determine possible fractures, and later sent to his home, under the care of a family physician.

While answering a call a fire truck operated by J. O. Kitchens and in charge of Fire Captain Cawthorne was struck by a truck of the Georgia News company, operated by H. C. Warnock, on Alabama street near station house No. 1 Sunday night. No one was injured. A case of reckless driving was made against Warnock.

Lonnie Hunt, of 891 Maundlin street, was slightly injured when knocked down by a city sanitary truck at Fraser and Fair streets at 11 o'clock Monday morning. The truck was driven by W. F. Sanders, 670 Julian street, who stopped his truck and carried the victim to Grady hospital. He was released following his report to Captain Holcombe, in which he stated that Hunt stepped from the curb directly in front of his car, and that he was unable to avoid striking him.

Mellon, Doheny, Sinclair Named In Mexican Row

Washington, February 21.—(United News.)—Secretary Mellon, E. L. Doheny and Harry F. Sinclair, who own 82 per cent of oil lands which are causing the Mexican controversy, have been named by the state department not to comply with the Mexican alien oil land laws, Walter Liggett, Plymouth, Mass., writer, told the senate foreign relations subcommittee today.

Liggett's testimony came during the subcommittee's hearing on a resolution offered by Senator Frazier, North Dakota republican, asking President Coolidge not to send troops into Mexico during the congressional recess.

He later explained his testimony by stating Doheny owned the Huasteca Petroleum company with 800,640 acres still withheld from title and the Doheny, Bridge y Compania of 30,766 acres. Mellon's holdings were listed by Liggett as the Mexican Petroleum company's 432,030 acres and Sinclair's as the Mexican Sinclair Petroleum corporation with 66,426 acres. Mellon recently denied any active interest in Mexican oil companies. The Gulf Oil and affiliated companies are commonly regarded as Mellon concerns.

Just how the control of oil-withholding companies named was divided, Liggett did not know.

Liggett told the committee members that he was a writer on Mexican affairs.

The present crisis in Mexico is an outgrowth of American efforts to force the Calles government to a wholesale validation of concessions "fraudulently acquired," he declared.

USE MELLOWS ITS CHARM

As with other artistic creations, use mellows but never dulls the charm of a Pierce-Arrow. And this is so because, in the building of the Pierce-Arrow, craftsmen devoted to their labors are keeping alive the arts and integrities of hand-building.

The thing that sets Pierce-Arrow apart, that stamps it with distinction, that crowns it with greatness, is this undeviating pursuit of perfection that marks the artist. This means, in motor cars as in lamps, the difference between mediocrity and superlative merit—the difference between passing fancy and lasting charm.

To be known and respected as "the hand-built motor car" has been at the once the ambition and the continuous realization of Pierce-Arrow.

Hand-building does not make the Pierce-Arrow a high-priced car. The Sixes 80 two-door coach at $5995 is an example. Easily maneuvered 120-inch wheelbase. Operating economy usually equaling and often surpassing that of cars costing less. Pierce-Arrow nitro-cellulose lacquer finish in 26 charming color choices without extra assessment. Balloon tires, four-wheel brakes and Houdaille double-acting shock absorbers standard equipment.

WASHINGTON ANNIVERSARY.

The anniversary of the birth of General George Washington accentuates the foundation stones in the structure of government, placed there by the fathers with great wisdom and judgment.

The federal constitution, as originally framed and with the amendments constituting the bill of rights, has been pronounced by statesmen of many countries as the greatest code of organic laws existing in the world. Gladstone so spoke of it on numerous occasions.

The fathers built securely but with a liberality that would not admit of intolerance or bigotry.

In modern thought, with statesmanship yielding to politics, there has been a drift away from the fundamentals, as Washington wrote and administered them, and as those in the line of succession down through the Jackson period, administered them.

Back to the constitution of the fathers—back to the fundamentals of true republicanism!

That should be the thought of every person today, as we turn back the pages of history and see again a young republic being created by unselfish statesmen and patriots, and not by petty politicians of selfish and sordid motives.

DR. CORRA HARRIS.

Rollins college, the nationally famous Florida institution of which Dr. Hamilton Holt is president, conferred honorary degrees on a number of notable people Monday.

Among them was Mrs. Corra Harris, Georgia's most outstanding woman, and one of the nation's most distinguished literary figures.

The degree conferred on Mrs. Harris was doctor of humane letters—a fitting recognition of her high place in the world of letters.

In the history of American literature the south holds a distinguished position. In folklore, poetry, fiction, history, biography, southern writers have gained wide renown. Georgia has produced many distinguished writers. Augusta Evans was nationally famous. The late Thomas E. Watson made a national reputation as a historian and biographer.

Joel Chandler Harris in nursery stories enjoyed a wide reputation. So did Frank L. Stanton, who recently died. Sydney Lapier was widely known. And others.

But the south has never produced a more brilliant writer, one with a stronger style appeal, with a finer spirit of philosophy, with a greater creative force, than Mrs. Harris.

As a regular contributor to the Saturday Evening Post, with her serials reduced to books, she is read around the world. And the millions who read her literary contributions, whether fiction or sketches, or essays, are the better and the happier, so clean and uplifting, and so bright and inspiring is every sentence from her pen.

In conferring so great an honor upon Mrs. Harris, one of a galaxy of people of fame, Rollins college has shown a deserved recognition to a writer who is foremost among the country's literary people and to a Georgian who is loved for herself as well as for her art.

AN ASTOUNDING RECORD.

The deadly peril of trespassing on railway property is being constantly impressed. And yet, according to the 1926 record of deaths and injuries along the lines of the Southern railway alone, the situation seems to be growing worse instead of better. The figures show that 135 trespassers were killed and 154 injured during the year—a considerable increase in both over 1925 records.

Those who use railroad tracks as highways simply flirt with death. Warnings do not appear to stop people from doing such foolish things, however. Records show that a large percentage of trespassers who are killed are useful citizens, or school children who use the tracks as walkways. Many boys are killed from the very dangerous habit of hopping local trains at stations to ride short distances. In alighting they are frequently swept under the wheels.

When one analyzes the year's record on one system only, and multiplies that by all the railroads in the country, there is cause for genuine alarm at this form of carelessness.

THE BOYS' CLUB WORK.

Professor G. V. Cunningham, state boys' club director, deserves warm commendation for the tremendous progress being made in boy club work, and for the records the clubs are making in acre yields.

During the year 1926 there were 12,486 active enrollments, and some idea of the good the clubs are doing can be gained from the boys' averages which greatly exceeded the farm averages.

In corn production, to illustrate, the 2,559 boys made average yields of 41.4 bushels to the acre. The general average was 14.5 bushels to the acre.

In cotton production the 2,803 club boys made an average of 402 pounds of lint to the acre. The farm average was 175 pounds.

All along the line, in potato production, poultry and pig production, etc., the club boys showed yields from two to four times greater than the farm averages.

The point is, these boys' clubs, with the increased yields that they secure, are serving materially in increasing the state's agricultural purchasing power. Not only that, but they are teaching their fathers how to farm profitably. They are making farm life more inviting, and doing an especially good work in stimulating interest in better acre yields.

That is the bed rock of farm prosperity. The cotton farmer who gets a bale to the acre produces cotton at less than half the expense that another cotton farmer who gets only a bale to three or four acres. It is true in the production of any commodity. The costs of production are automatically reduced as the yield is increased.

Professor Cunningham expects 15,000 boy club enrollments in 1927, and will undoubtedly reach that goal.

Every community should have one or more clubs. Every parent ought to encourage the boys. Banks in rural sections ought to encourage them. There is no finer work, or a work that means more for the future.

COAL STRIKE THREATENED.

The country is facing the prospects of another strike in the bituminous coal mines. The joint conference of the organized mine workers and operators at Miami does not appear to be progressing toward an agreement.

The trouble is the Jacksonville wage scale is not in effect in the nonunion mines, and the latter, it is said, are paying an average of around 30 per cent less on the schedule as a whole. Such mines are disposing of coal at prices far below what the union operators, according to their claims, can afford to sell at, due to their increased costs of production. They claim they must cut wages to the nonunion basis, or in that neighborhood, or go out of business. Looking at the situation in the light of reason there is sense in that statement, and particularly in view of the large increase in nonunion production.

But, even with the known reserve of 85,000,000 tons of soft coal now above ground, and the fact that nonunion miners would not be included in any shut-down of the union mines, it is also true that a strike in all the union bituminous mines would be most serious. It is more than probable, as experience has taught, that it would spread to the nonunion collieries.

Both the administrative and legislative branches of government have been negligent in handling the coal problem. Secretary Hoover urged the Jacksonville agreement. He declared it would be the salvation of the industry. The operators now claim it is ruining the industry. In the meantime congress has taken no action such as was urged by the Harding coal commission, which went exclusively into all the facts and made definite recommendations for stabilizing the industry and for public protection. It should have acted long ago.

The man who places his mark in life as the dollar mark most often obtains only a vaccination mark.

That cherry incident had a lot to do with popularizing the first president, but those of today have to fall back on plums.

The statesman who claimed that the British empire should be remodeled may attain some satisfaction in seeing what China and India and Egypt is doing to that end.

If Vane, Smith, Woods, Tilson and others are embarrassing the president he might give them some remote diplomatic jobs.

While the reformers are cleaning up the book stalls of phony art magazines no one, as yet, has referred to the pictures of phony pulchritude as phony graphs.

Suicide Club.

The curiosity of the police has been aroused by an anonymous letter, in which they are informed of the existence of a suicides club in Budapest, which is described as possessing widespread ramifications. Meetings are said to take place once or twice a week at the various centers, at which lectures and discourses extolling the virtue of suicide are delivered. The writer of the letter, obviously a "companion" of education, states that she actually became a member of the club and hopes shortly to inform the police of her identity. As there has been a noticeable increase in the number of suicides lately (22 persons committed suicide during the first three days of the year), the police regard the letter as more than a hoax, and are making investigations.

America's Need.

For one of the most recent criticisms of American life have come from an observer who makes no pretense of either philosophic insight or literary skill, says the Manchester Guardian. Mrs. Rosa Lewis, a well-known English writer, who has been in New York, and has been interviewed, "all ways give a sausage a pat when you put it in the pan," she advised her inquisitor, "that is, she said, 'What American needs, to be a little pat. Has too many dyes.' She looked around her hotel bedroom, and ran her hand over the corners of her dresser. 'Too sharp,' she commented. Presently Mrs. Lewis took a walk along Park avenue, where she was worried by the sharp angles of the high buildings. 'That is, she said, 'What American needs, to be a little pat. Has too many dyes.' LAST RITES TODAY FOR M. K. LAYTON

Funeral services for Montgomery K. Layton, 62, of 484 North Highland avenue, financial secretary of the Georgia association and widely-known wholesale druggist, who died Monday morning at a local hospital one hour after he was stricken with a heart attack on his way to work, will be held from the Barclay and Brandon chapel this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. S. C. McConnell will officiate.

Mr. Layton, apparently in good health prior to the attack, was taken to the hospital by a friend who found him lying on the sidewalk in front of his home.

He was a former resident of Montgomery, Ala., giving up the management of the Alabama branch of the Lamar and Rankin Drug company about one year ago to come to Atlanta. He also managed the Lamar-Taylor-Riley Drug company, of Macon, traveling between the two cities.

It was because of Mr. Layton's close sympathy with the problems of southern farmers, and his knowledge of rural conditions that he was chosen for the post of financial secretary of the Georgia association.

Mr. Layton was an officer of the Kiwanis club of Montgomery and a member of the Alcazar Shrine of that city. He was also a Royal Arch Mason. Shortly after his coming to Atlanta he joined the Druid Hills Baptist church.

Distinguished Georgia Woman Honored By Award of Degree by Rollins College

Mrs. Corra Harris, left, noted Georgia writer, is shown with Dr. Hamilton Holt, new president of Rollins college, at right. Mrs. Harris was among the number of notables who Monday received honorary degrees from the Rollins president, her degree being, "Doctor of Humane Letters." The famous Georgia woman was a conspicuous figure in the gathering of notables, in impressive ceremonies.

Winter Park, Fla., February 21.—(Special.)—With notables from various parts of the country in attendance, the celebration of Founders' week at Rollins college reached the zenith of its progress today when Hamilton Holt, Litt.D., LL.D., was inaugurated as president of the college, and honorary degrees were conferred upon a group of noted writers, philosophers, educators, humanitarians, scientists and historians.

Prominent among notables honored by the college were Mrs. Corra Harris, famous Georgia writer, who is here spending the winter; Rex Beach, author; Edgar Watson Howe, philosopher; Albert Shaw, journalist; J. Blanton Bell, theologian; Kerrison Juniper, theologian and lecturer; William Russell O'Neal, churchman and state official; Karl Lehmann, welfare worker; Robert J. Caldwell, philanthropist; Stephen Pierce Dugan, political scientist; Henry Goddard Leach, author and editor; Cameron Mann, author; Ruth Bryan Owen, humanitarian and stateswoman, daughter of William Jennings Bryan; Irving Bacheller, eminent writer, who awarded the Rollins degree; and a host of others.

Trusting to the "gentle heart, warm, human sympathy and integrity of character."

Mrs. Harris Lauded.

In conferring the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters upon Mrs. Corra Harris, Dean George E. Carothers delivered the following presentation: "Corra Harris was born on a plantation in Elbert county, Georgia. Save for a trip to the battle front during the third act of the greatest tragedy in history and save for an occasional pilgrimage to the north, east or west in quest of American human nature, she has never left the red soil or the brown streams of her beloved Georgia.

"The formal schooling of Mrs. Harris consisted of three years' instruction in the old field school of Elberton. All true education, however, is self-education. Corra Harris is an example of the best of American education."

"At 17, she married Lundy Howe and Harris, a Methodist itinerant preacher, afterwards professor of Greek at Emory college and later assistant secretary of the board of education of the Southern Methodist church. Their daughter, Faith, a girl apt at goodness and a successful writer, who died seven years ago, is still the rose upon the mother's breast, the crown upon her hair."

"Mrs. Harris published her first article in 'The Independent' May 17, 1899, and for the next 10 years she contributed constantly to that magazine signed articles, editorials and book reviews. In 1904, she published her first stories in the 'American' magazine. In 1907, she began to write for the 'Saturday Evening Post.' Most of the products of her pen have appeared in this weekly ever since.

"Her first phenomenal success, published in 1909, was the autobiographical novel, 'A Circuit Rider's Wife.' Her masterpiece, 'My Book and Heart,' which appeared three years ago, is the story of a brave woman's brave fight against grief and adversity, told with a delicacy, tenderness and abiding faith in the goodness of the world that no man, whether saint or hero, can hope to emulate.

"Today the name of Corra Harris is an interpreter of the human heart, unsurpassed by any contemporary writer of English."

In response, President Holt addressed the noted Georgian writer, as follows:

"Corra Harris, circuit rider's wife, Faith's mother, noble-minded author of noble-minded books, for your insight into the human heart, for the courage, consolation and hope you have brought through the printed word to thousands of unknown friends, for the good fight you have fought and the faith you have kept, Rollins college confers upon you the degree of doctor of humane letters and admits you to all its rights and privileges."

Resides at Rydal.

Mrs. Harris, recognized as one of America's greatest woman writers, first gained attention of the literary world when the Saturday Evening Post published her serial, 'A Circuit Rider's Wife,' in which series she described the life of the wife of an itinerant Methodist preacher. Her husband was the Rev. Lundy Harris, who traveled Georgia circuits for years.

Mrs. Harris, now internationally known, resides in Rydal, Ga., in Bartow county.

Degrees Awarded.

Degrees conferred by Rollins college were: Rex Beach, explorer, writer, Doctor of Literature, for distinction as a writer of fiction; Edgar Watson Howe, author, Doctor of Letters, for mastery of literary arts; Albert Shaw, editor and political scientist, for influence upon politics of the country; degree of Doctor of Humane Letters; J. Blanton Bell, theologian, Doctor of Divinity, for spiritual virtues; Ruth Bryan Owen, stateswoman, Doctor of Laws, in recognition of "woman's service in world crisis brought on by man's ignorance, obstinacy and folly;" Cameron Mann, poet and theologian, Doctor of Laws, for "wide learning and competence in office;" Henry Goddard Leach, editor and author, Doctor of Laws, for "performance in educational, religious, social and civic realms;" Stephen Pierce Dugan, educator, Doctor of Laws, for "advocacy of the League of Nations and world court as the first step in that process which will substitute law for war;" Robert J. Caldwell, business statesman, Doctor of Laws, for efforts to arrive at just solutions of problems between capital and labor; Karl Lehmann, welfare worker, Doctor of Laws, for promoting interests of his community; William Russell O'Neal, educator, Doctor of Laws, for devotion to Rollins college and other institutions; Kerrison Juniper, traveler and writer, Doctor of Divinity, for "example set as a servant of Christ."

The inauguration program, president's address and conferring of honorary degrees started at 10 o'clock this morning. At 4 p. m. the president's reception was held, and at 9 p. m. an inaugural dance was held in the Woman's club.

Founder's week will close Tuesday with a Washington birthday pageant at the Brewer estate at 3 o'clock, and a civic reception at the Woman's club at 8 o'clock.

Pledges Work of Service.

Vowing to devote every faculty toward the good of Rollins college, oldest institution in Florida and one with fine traditions, President Holt delivered an inaugural address to the throng of students, alumni and benefactors, in which he proclaimed the advantages embraced in the size of the school and outlined the plans by virtue of which it is hoped to establish the institution as the most ideal one of its kind in America.

"When we come to consider the human aspect of environment, I am still old-fashioned enough to think that it is the professor who makes the college great," President Holt said. "I suppose there are only four or five hundred great teachers in the colleges and universities of the United States—out of the many thousands in the profession. I shall consider that I have failed as president of Rollins college if I cannot find such teachers and bring them here."

President Holt concluded his address by declaring that his vision of a future Rollins college are not a dream—but a "great adventure" and a "long voyage" upon which the school embarked under the new presidency.

German Hangs Self.

Los Angeles, February 21.—(AP)—Herman Bestmann, 76, former German baron and mill-maire, hanged himself at his home today in a suicide note to his son in which he declared the latter to be responsible for the act.

Resting easy at a late hour Monday night, John A. Scharf, of 801 Moreland avenue, director of the police station Monday at noon, is being held by Grady physicians to be on the road to recovery. Mr. Scharf was seized while conducting a band practice at headquarters. He was removed to Grady hospital immediately afterwards, where he was said to be suffering from high blood pressure and the need of a complete rest.

SYMPHONY SEEKS CAPACITY CROWD

The Atlanta Symphony association made a net profit of $1,100 on the Schumann-Heink concert at the auditorium last Wednesday night. This became known Monday when a statement regarding the financial condition of the organization was made public.

With one concert of the present series, to be given next Sunday afternoon at Loew's Grand theater, remaining, the association still faces a deficit of $2,000, the statement shows. In an effort to prevent any addition to this, admission prices for next Sunday have been set at extremely low scale for the reserved sections, being placed at 50 cents for all balcony seats and $1 for orchestra and loges. It is hoped that the house will be entirely sold out at this scale. If this object is achieved, there will be no increase in the deficit, at least, it was stated.

Self Operating Talking Machine Is Announced

Camden, N. J., February 21.—A self-operating talking machine, which changes records automatically and gives an hour of music with one filling of the record magazine, is the latest development in the field of musical reproduction. Announcement of the perfection of this ingenious device, which is hoped to have far-reaching effect upon the industry, was made today by the research laboratories of the Victor Talking Machine company.

Almost from the day when the first practical talking machine was built, inventors have dreamed of an instrument which could change records automatically. Realization of this dream represents five years of intense experiment in the Victor laboratories, according to E. E. Shumaker, president of the company.

The new instrument performs an intricate operation in a surprisingly simple manner. One of the familiar type of disc records are placed in a magazine which is suspended at an angle above the turntable of the instrument. A touch of the starter button sets the mechanism in motion. A mechanical "hand" takes the first record from the magazine and places it on the turntable, the tone arm swings into playing position and the music starts. When the first record has been played to completion the mechanical "hand" removes it, transfers it to a velvet lined drawer, takes the second record from the magazine, places it on the turntable, and the process is repeated. When the last record in the magazine has been played, the mechanical "hand" removes it, and the instrument stops automatically.

A complete symphonic recording, requiring 12 record surfaces, or 12 assorted selections may be placed in the instrument at one time.

An electric motor drives the mechanism of the instrument. The musical reproducing system employed is the Orthophonic talking machine introduced by the Victor company a little more than a year ago.

ALLEGED BANKING FRAUDS CHARGED

George O. King, bookkeeper of the defunct Bankers' Trust company, again occupied the spotlight Monday as the chief witness in the trial of J. A. Sasser, John D. Russell, P. J. Baker and L. R. Adams, co-defendants in the Bankers' Trust company, on mail fraud charges in United States district court. King's testimony in connection with the Georgia Farm Loan company transaction, now under fire from the district attorney in trial of the case, was to the effect that the company was in process of liquidation as far back as 1919.

District Attorney Clint W. Hager introduced a number of letters and notes alleged to have been signed by Sasser as vice president, secretary and treasurer of the Georgia Farm Loan company, showing that notes first signed by Sasser in 1922 and 1923 were renewed from time to time and are still outstanding and unpaid.

These notes were secured by notes of the Georgia Realty company, and the Georgia Realty company as far back as 1921 was insolvent to the extent of $34,000, its entire capital stock having been wiped out, the district attorney charged, adding "which made it no security at all."

King, on the stand, testified to signing $55,000 worth of notes when asked to do so by Baker, the notes, he said, being renewed at various intervals from 1915 to 1919. The witness admitted that he never had any interest in real estate, had no title to real estate, and did not pay taxes on real estate. District Attorney Hager charged that King was asked to sign the notes as a screen, so that the notes would look like new paper when they were transferred to the Georgia Realty company to King, and then from King to the Georgia Farm Loan company. The district attorney traced the transfer through the note file of the company, he said.

Hewlett Hall, attorney for Sasser, in outlining in the case he will present in defense of his client, said that he intends to show that the business of the Georgia Farm Loan company was handled legitimately up to 1918, and that Sasser had no active connection with it from that time.

Mr. Hall declared that someone had been "robbing" the Bankers' Trust company, and that he was going to get to the bottom of it, inviting Mr. Hager to join him. Under cross-examination by Mr. Hall, King said that notes signed by Sasser were on good security, mostly Luckie and Fulton street property, this being supported by a brief review of the books of the Georgia Farm Loan company.

Georgia Honors 'Sweet Singer Of South' Today

Frank Stanton's birthday anniversary is here today but his chair in The Constitution office is vacant. The beloved southern poet would have celebrated his seventieth birthday anniversary today but he died just a few weeks before he attained his allotted three score and ten.

Frank Stanton is gone but today thousands in Georgia will join in paying silent tribute to the man whose songs were sung around the world and who brought joy and happiness into our hearts and souls.

No special program will be carried out in the schools of the state in memory of Stanton but nearly all schools that hold exercises will include recitations of Stanton's poems.

Many of the schools of the state which hold Washington birthday exercises will honor the memory of Stanton at the same time.

The birthday anniversary of the famous poet fell on February 22, the same date as Washington's birthday, and he always received numerous greetings from all parts of the country on his anniversaries.

His last anniversary was celebrated last year and many of Georgia's most prominent citizens called personally on the poet to congratulate him. He received the honor of appointment as poet laureate of Georgia from Governor Clifford Walker on his anniversary two years ago.

Goodyear-Clearwater Mills At Cedartown Now Running; Banquet Honors Occasion

Governor Walker and Goodyear Tire Company Officials Among Distinguished Guests.

Cedartown, Ga., February 21.—(Special.)—The governor of Georgia, prominent Atlanta and Cedartown business men and high officials of the Goodyear Tire company, met here tonight at a dinner at the new Wayside inn when the Goodyear officials acted as hosts in honor of the formal opening of the Goodyear-Clearwater mills.

The ceremonies tonight, in celebration of what is, perhaps, the largest mill of its kind in the United States, also were made the occasion by C. C. Slusser, vice president and general manager of Goodyear production, to announce the probable building this year of an additional unit to the old Paragon mills.

The Paragon mills, which the Goodyear company has converted into a plant for the manufacture of fabric yarn, making its tire, already was one of the largest textile mills in the state. Since taking over the property the company has increased its capacity 200 per cent, Slusser said, and the proposed unit will be of equal capacity.

Mills Operating.
The mills opened today with 35,000 spindles in operation and working two shifts, giving a daily capacity of 70,000 spindles. Approximately 1,000 workmen are employed in the mill as now operated and a like number will be needed for the new unit.

In connection with Goodyear operation of the mill the company has built and provides for its workmen model homes of the bungalow type and has an area of about 10 city blocks built up into homes.

At the dinner tonight the tire company was host to Charles Adamson, former owner of the Paragon mills; Mayor Albert Stubbs, the Cedartown city council and the county commissioners of Polk county.

Distinguished Guests.
The meeting was presided over by C. W. Martin, general manager of the southern division of the Goodyear company, with headquarters in Atlanta. Prominent out-of-town guests and Goodyear officials included C. C. Slusser, H. Lane Young, general manager of the Citizens and Southern bank in Atlanta; Governor Clifford Walker, Hugh Allen, manager of Goodyear publications; W. G. Starnes, manager of the Atlanta Goodyear plant.

The Goodyear-Clearwater mills will be operated under the direction of Ira A. McDaniel, assistant treasurer of the company, with G. L. Parsons, superintendent of the mills, and L. A. Spere, manager of fabric production department.

In making the principal address at the dinner tonight Mr. Slusser paid high tribute to Mr. Adamson, to whose acumen and influence he credited the bringing of the Goodyear industry to Cedartown.

The Goodyear dinner also marked the formal reopening of the Wayside inn, which was recently burned down. The new inn is modern in every respect and has been newly furnished throughout.

Contagious Diseases
Slay 661 Georgians
In Month of January

Contagious diseases took a toll of 661 lives in Georgia during January, the bureau of vital statistics of the state board of health announced Monday in its monthly morbidity and mortality report. Pneumonia claimed the greater number of fatalities, 249 deaths being reported from this cause. Pulmonary tuberculosis was second with 147 deaths, and influenza was third, with 92, the report showed.

Most of the deaths reported in January were from seasonal diseases, Butler Toombs, director of the bureau, said.

The report was the first issued by the state board of health since the ratification last fall of the constitutional amendment requiring vital statistics reports from all counties. The vital statistics law previously had been declared unconstitutional by the Georgia supreme court in 1925, and the reports were halted until the defect in the law was corrected, it was said.

The January report, the director said, was compiled from statistics submitted by approximately 1,200 local registrars over the state. Application for readmission of Georgia into the federal registration area will be made by the federal bureau of census about the middle of the year, Mr. Toombs said. During the three years Georgia was in this area—1922-23-24—it had the lowest death rate of any state east of the Mississippi river, it was said.

SOUTHERN PHOTO WINS EASTMAN KODAK SUIT

Washington, February 21.—(P)—The Eastman Kodak company, of New York, lost Monday in the supreme court in its effort to have set aside the judgment of the federal courts in Georgia awarding damages to the Southern Photo Material company for losses suffered through the refusal of the Eastman company to sell its photographic supplies.

ANTI-TRUST ACT VIOLATION CHARGED.

The Southern Photo company was awarded a judgment in district court here in 1923 for $28,743.98 against the Eastman Kodak company, suit having been brought on the ground that the Eastman company had violated the Sherman anti-trust act.

The photo material company of Atlanta charged the kodak company with hiring its traveling salesmen, bookkeepers, manager and other employees following its refusal to sell out to the Eastman company, the latter company then increasing prices in the material after it had purchased all competing stock houses.

Spaulding, MacDougal and Sibley, of Atlanta, and Fowler and Fowler, of Knoxville, Tenn., represented the Atlanta photo supply house.

U. S. Supreme Court Not To Pass Upon Georgia Stock Case

Washington, February 21.—(P)—The claim of the Southern Industrial institute of Georgia to shares of stock in the Bibb Manufacturing company, which had been placed in the name of the institute by Francis M. Marsh, of Georgia, shortly before his death, will not be passed upon by the supreme court, it was announced today.

ATLANTA FIRM REPRESENTED PLAINTIFF.

Baldwin, McDougal & Sibley, Atlanta, counsel for the Southern Industrial institute, in March, 1926, filed suit in the United States district court to recover shares of stock in the Bibb Manufacturing company. The stock had been placed in the name of the institute by Francis M. Marsh, but due to the death of Mr. Marsh, the certificates were not delivered to the institute, it was stated.

Judge Samuel Sibley's court ruled that since the certificates had not actually been delivered, title had not changed hands.

An appeal was made to the United States court of appeals, which affirmed the decision of the lower court. A certiorari was taken before the United States supreme court and the decision of the lower court was refused, according to attorneys for the industrial institute.

AID FOR ORPHANS OF WAR VETERANS URGED BY HARRIS

Washington, February 21.—(Special.)—Senator Harris today had the clerk of the senate read on the floor of that body the resolution passed by the American Legion and American Legion auxiliary at their national convention at Philadelphia last year urging passage of his bill to continue death compensation now being paid to minor children of deceased veterans to the age of 21 instead of 18 years.

Senator Harris urged enactment of the measure. The resolutions set forth hearty approval of the measure and pointed out that "all the great European powers associated with the United States in the world war furnish material assistance in the collegiate education and vocational training of the sons and daughters of those who were killed in action or died from other cause, during or as result of the war," and that our own government should not discontinue payment of such compensation just at the time that they are entering upon their college career or taking up vocational training.

Deductions Ordered.
Washington, February 21.—(P)—Land grant railroads in transporting United States troops must allow land grant deductions from the special rates allowed passengers traveling in a party, the supreme court held today, in a case appealed by the Louisville & Nashville railroad.

Here's Your Problem; What Will You Do To Solve It?

Problems—what will you do with them?

Just now Georgia and the nation are faced with agricultural problems, and the best brains of a continent are trained upon their solution.

Congress passes agricultural relief bills. Georgia considers the matter of exempting from taxation the land of "dirt farmers."

You, too, have a personal and a pressing problem—the accident wave. What would happen to your family should you become a victim of a traffic tragedy? Would it be safe from financial want and privation? Would things go on smoothly if you were incapacitated by an accident and left a drag on your loved ones?

The Constitution's offer of the famous $7,500 travel accident insurance policy of the North American Accident Insurance company is the answer to your problem. The cost is insignificant and the protection is sweeping.

To every Constitution reader between the ages of 15 and 70 this splendid policy is available at the price of only $1.25 per year—a fraction of a penny a day. Under the terms of the policy, you are protected in sums ranging downward from $7,500 in cases of death resulting from certain accidents; you are assured of heavy cash sums for permanent injuries and $10 weekly indemnity for disability.

You may be slain or injured today in a train wreck, a crash of automobiles, under the wheels of a speeding car, in a burning building.

Why not protect yourself against these and other emergencies while protection is available at so amazingly cheap a rate?

Watch for advertisements of the $7,500 travel accident policy which appears regularly in this paper.

This $7,500 travel, $2,000 auto and $1,000 pedestrian accident policy is issued only to subscribers of The Daily and Sunday Constitution and immediate dependent members of a subscriber's family between the ages of 15 and 70 at $1.25 per policy per year. Open to both old and new subscribers.

One who is now taking The Daily and Sunday Constitution, or will subscribe for same through carrier in Atlanta and suburbs, or through an out-of-town carrier or dealer, paying for the paper weekly, monthly or otherwise, is a subscriber, and is eligible.

Those taking The Daily and Sunday Constitution by mail, either through a post office or rural route delivery, and all those subscribing through the twin word building contest for one year are eligible by paying $1.25 per year per policy above the subscription price. In sending application for insurance, the applicant must state name in full, give age and occupation. If beneficiary is desired, full Christian name must be given and the relation of same to the insured.

LEGION TO RAISE NEW U. S. FLAG AT FIVE POINTS

Old Glory will rise again to the peak of the flagpole at Five Points today as the birthday tribute of the American Legion to the memory of George Washington, it was announced Monday by Commander Asa Warren Candler, of the Atlanta post.

The legion committee on Americanization, headed by Gordon Singleton, chairman, will conduct brief presentation ceremonies at noon, replacing an American flag, six feet high by nine feet wide, to Mayor I. N. Ragsdale, representing the city.

Legionnaires will raise the flag each morning and lower it at sundown, during the remainder of the year, Mr. Singleton stated.

The flagpole has not displayed its usual evidence of patriotism for several months, the flag presented by the legion on Armistice day having proved too big for practical use on a flag staff the size of the one at Five Points. The new flag, secured from the war department, is of standard size for the flagstaff. It was received at Fort McPherson Monday.

U. S. Wins Appeal.

Washington, February 21.—(P)—The supreme court today consented to grant the United States an appeal to bring up for decision the right of the government to recover from those handling the domestic wool clip for 1918 of alleged excess profits, as presented in a case against Henry Marcus & Son, of Maryland, which the government lost in the lower federal courts, where it was held that the war industries board had no authority to limit such profits.

Charleston Firm Loses.

Washington, February 21.—(P)—The Charleston (S. C.) Mining and Manufacturing company lost in the supreme court today in its fight to set aside the decision of lower federal courts directing the cancellation of its title to certain lands in southern Florida.

"Music Box Revue" Styled Best of Kind This Year

Of all the speedy, fast stepping, gorgeous and glorified girl shows seen here this season, Irving Berlin's "Music Box Revue," offered at the Erlanger theater Monday night, proved to be the speediest, the fastest stepping, unquestionably the most gorgeous and in many respects glorified the girls to a higher degree than any of its predecessors in this line playing engagements here this season.

The George Wintz version of the famous New York favorite of the fatigued man of business, scored a rousing hit with the audience Monday night and sent people away with the satisfaction of having seen a real show presented by capable principals, whether or not each individual approved of all the types of entertainment proffered.

In spots the "Music Box Revue" is undoubtedly naughty. In other spots it is appealing and dear. It is chock-full of hitting songs and real melodies and there are plenty of people with ability to sing them. It brings some of the most startling and surprising scenic and lighting effects of any show seen here in years and its gorgeous colorings, flashing and garish costumes and picturesque settings easily excel any attraction of a similar type offered here since the Erlanger theater was opened.

While the "Music Box Revue" is naughty it is certainly not dirty. It is spiced here and there, it has some breezy little skits in it here and there, but there's a remarkable cleanliness and wholesomeness about other features of the attraction that more than offsets these phases. In some parts it is a modernized burlesque show which would bring a nod of approval from Al Reeves or Sam Scribner, yet it has other skits, beautifully staged and ably acted, which would win the commendation of a stickler like John Golden. The show is certainly nothing more or less than it purports to be, a modernized burlesque show for presentation at a Methodist conference or an Epworth league convention.

Thirty scenes are used to give the audience all the variety possible in the way of entertainment. Some of these scenes mark the last word in staging and artistic stagecraft. Many are bright and breezy little comedy skits, each with surprising climaxes, usually of a comic character. Several beautiful scene pictures, numerous dances of almost every conceivable type, appealing ballad numbers, a series of startling vaudeville turns and the glorification of the girls in all states of glorification round out the specifications of what can be expected in the "Music Box Revue."

Runs Full Range.

It would take too much time and space to attempt to list in order the multitude of novelties and features contained in the 30 big scenes. The entertainment runs the gamut from burlesque to drama and from pathos to slapstick comedy.

Of the most attractive song numbers, each offered with special staging, can be mentioned "Alice in Wonderland," "The Bride's Story," "The Call of the South," "Little Old New York," "The Weeping Willow Tree," "Don't Send Me Back," "Rock-A-Bye Baby" and "School Days." Colorful tableaux formed attractive backgrounds for these numbers.

Dave Burns, a resourceful comedian, carries most of the comedy and does his work with a rare finish which stamps him as a real comedian, rather than as somebody simply imitating some other comedian. In "Curley" Mounett he has a strong baritone voice; Louise Holmes, with a rich soprano; Nyra Brown and the dainty little

Lyons sisters handle most of the songs.

Able Comedienne. Miss Brown is a comedienne of exceptional ability and in her numerous appearances acquires herself with ease. Charlotte Grauert in a burlesque "ethiopian dance" other skits was well received. Missa Hayes was the featured beauty of the show, while other principals were people of more than the average talent. A saxophone quartet, two fast stepping young men, dancers, Leroy Snyder and Leon Valdes, and the "sister sweet sixteen" contributed much to the entertainment of the evening.

Some "black bottom" dancing with the girls doing a few new, "wiggling brought much applause. The "Bandanna Ball," the finale of the first act, the comedy skit, "The King's Gal," and the skit, "The Kid's First and Last Fight," were other standing novelties that pleased.

Taken all in all, the "Music Box Revue" is the best of its kind here the last word in the line of a real show from the moment the curtain rises until it drops on the last blazing and sparkling finale.

REAL MELODRAMA PROVIDED FORSYTH FANS THIS WEEK

Real, honest-to-goodness thrills, melodrama in which the hero finally outwits the crooked private detective, and takes the heroine into his arms while the villainous "dick" falls into the wide open clutch of the law, is offered by the Forsyth Players this week in "Hush Money."

With a plot that would do credit to Nick Carter himself, John Warner and Miss Ellis Baker, popular leading folks of the Forsyth group, achieved a real triumph Monday night in their presentation of the melodrama, "Hush Money," while good Gus Forbes did himself proud in the role of the crooked detective, "Brook Morgan." Gus looked more like a detective than Mr. Burns himself, though we didn't notice his feet.

The comedy was supplied by Rhea Dively as the irrepressible "Gertie McGonigle," whose reformation from "littering" got her a job as a "littering" girl. The comedy was a "show in themselves."

Good character work was done by Alan Devitt as "Duke Dexter," a double-crossing crook, and Jay Mulroney as "Santa Claus," Morgan's wire-tapper. Jack Hagerty makes a good "Smiler," while others in the cast, "The Shiner," "Mrs. Arner," "Darwin," "Jane Stuart" as "Mrs. Rudolph Wurzman," Lawrence Keating as "Enrico Del Rio," Joseph Egerton as "Judge Forrest," Thurman Jackson as "McClure," and Frank McDonald as "Potter," carry out their characters to perfection.

Following Tuesday's matinee, members of the company will give a reception on the stage to the patrons of the theater. Souvenirs will be given to ladies attending.

BABY PEGGY IS BIG 'KNOCKOUT' OF BILL AT KEITH'S GEORGIA

If you want to see a real show, go to the Georgia this week. The bill is a whopper and you'll like it.

"Baby Peggy" is the big gun. She did off as the "darling of the screen," and she deserves the title—judging by the tremendous ovation accorded her last evening. "Pinched" is her comedy skit and it is a knockout.

Widow's comedy skit is a star act on the bill. It goes over big. Rich and Cherie play "Toreador" and get a big hand.

Gus Fay and his musical comedy company put across a big, hearty laugh in "Adrift." This act itself is worth going to the show to see.

Karavaeff is the name of the noted Russian dancer on the bill. His stepping sisters do some fancy twirling in this number that would have put a sparkle in the eyes of the czar of Russia during the prime of his reign.

It is a well-rounded bill at the Georgia this week, as Atlanta is learning to expect on the Keith-Albee circuit.

DANCER-COMEDIAN IS OUTSTANDING GRAND FEATURE

Roscoe Ails, one of the greatest dancers in vaudeville, also one of the funniest comedians, also one of the most resourceful showmen in the country, heads the vaudeville bill which opened Monday at Loew's Supreme.

After the comedy of the "Lucky Star," and he's brought with him a show that ought to make the old town sit up and take notice. First, there is Ails himself, doing a little bit of everything and doing it in a way to keep everybody laughing. Then there's pretty Katie Pullman, his partner, who is almost as good a dancer and comedian as Ails himself. Next is syndication's favorite band, also with Ails and last is the special "Black Bottom" dancing contest with Ails as master of ceremonies.

With such a headline on the vaudeville bill it seems like too much to present one of the most spectacular, one of the most gripping and one of the greatest pictures ever seen in Atlanta, but that is exactly what "Faust" is. Emil Jannings gives an amazing portrayal of an amazing character in an amazing picture.

Roscoe Ails and Katie Pullman, with their company, which includes Dorothy Ellsworth and Cecil Graham and the band, could give a whole vaudeville bill themselves if necessary, but they are other acts of unusual merit on the program. Charles Keating in "Their First Love" presents an appealing little love story. Some excellent singing by Charles Keating and the company is presented in an amusing pantomime skit with Gordon singing also in the afterpiece presented by Roscoe Ails. Bertie and Hennie, two girl singers, appear in a novel song skit. They round out what is unquestionably one of the best vaudeville bills of the year in Atlanta.

CHARLES RAY HIT IN "FIRE BRIGADE" ON HOWARD SCREEN

The last word in thrills, pulse-accelerating scenes and good, substantial screen fare is "The Fire Brigade" at the Howard theater.

It is a simple tale, simply told: a story of "The Big Parade" of peace-time—the fire fighters. It has much of the appeal and thrill of "The Big Parade" itself. The race to the four-alarm fire in the closing reels, with the gallant old fire-brigade, the last of the line, winning the race to the fire with the motor trucks, is an excellent climax to the story of "Ben Hur."

The rescue of an orphan from a roof which is slowly cracking; a "villain" who might well have been taken out of the drama of the 90's—mustache, cigar and all—on paper it seems the rankest kind of humbug, but on the screen it is real and impressive.

Charles Ray does the finest work of his career in the leading role. Eugene Bessner is splendid as the mother who loses her sons, one by one, killed on duty.

Ray Alvino and his banjo boys are the dance attraction with a quartet of girls who dance quite well. The offering is a most unusual and pleasing manner.

LUCKIE WIDENING AWAITS ON ACTION OF COUNTY BOARD

Work of regarding, widening and repaving of Luckie street from Barclay to Fulton today awaits action of the Fulton county commission.

At the meeting of the board Wednesday night will appropriate $90,000 for the project.

Council, Monday, amended a former resolution in which the word "regarding" had been inadvertently changed to "rebuilding" by the secretary. The amendment was signed today by Mayor I. N. Ragsdale. The paper was offered by Councilman Harry York, of the sixth, and was supported by the entire sixth ward delegation in council.

The remainder of the stretch, from Hunnicutt to North avenue will be begun just as soon as the first part is completed.

COURT ORDINANCE MADE TO COMPLY WITH OPEN HOURS

Council Monday passed unanimously an ordinance establishing the second division of the recorder's court, making it legal and proper to open the so-called night session at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

The paper was offered by Alderman Charles Murphy, chairman of the police committee of city council, and was supported by Ernest Bentley, attorney, and the attorney of Judge Murphy M. Holloway to sit on a case before 7 o'clock prescribed by the original ordinance as the time for the night session to begin.

Bentley secured an order making the city show cause why a permanent injunction might be granted, and the case should be heard in the superior court Monday afternoon. It was postponed until this afternoon, and in the meantime council changed the ordinance. Mayor I. N. Ragsdale is expected to approve to change today.

FAUST APPOINTED CHAPLAIN TO COUNCIL

Dr. W. H. Faust, pastor of the Gordon Street Baptist church, Monday was appointed official chaplain of city council by Mayor Tom W. Guy Dobbs. Dr. Faust will serve whenever he can attend meetings and when he can't be present, he will appoint another minister to act for him. Mr. Dobbs explained.

Moon in Nashville.

Lonnie Moon, son of Alderman P. L. Moon, of the second ward, who has been connected with the department of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company since his graduation in December, has been transferred to the Nashville office for the next few weeks. He will return to Atlanta when his work is completed there.

I. C. C. VALUATIONS OF ROADS UPHELD

Washington, February 21.—(AP)—Final valuations of railroads by the interstate commerce commission cannot be challenged in the courts until used by the commission in rate making or as the basis for some other official act, the supreme court decided today in a case arising out of the attack of the Los Angeles and Salt Lake railroad upon the final valuation of its property by the commission.

The decision, delivered by Justice Brandeis, with no dissent, Justice Butler taking no part in the case, denied the petition for a writ of certiorari to attack the valuation of the railroad under attack, but disposed of the jurisdictional question. The court held that the railroad had no standing to attack the valuation until the commission used it in some official act, and declared that the proceedings it instituted should have been dismissed.

The decision will require the dismissal of a large number of cases pending in the lower courts in which final valuations were attacked before the charges made by the railroad were upheld by any official act.

The Los Angeles and Salt Lake, a branch of the Union Pacific, like other railroads attacking the valuations insisted that the commission was using as a basis for its findings a valuation different from the exchange or sales value. On the valuation under the commission contained that its final valuations which had been made of about eight per cent of the railroad property were fair and equitable for rate purposes, but the court did not go into that question. It announced that it was not necessary to consider whether or not all of the four points below freezing, according to C. F. von Hermann, meteorologist of the local weather bureau.

Georgia's early budding fruit trees did not suffer from Monday's freeze, Mr. von Hermann stated, pointing out that the freezing weather did not extend south of Macon and that the ground was wet enough Monday night to prevent any serious damage to plants, shrubs and trees that are doing April work.

Monday's warm sunbath routed the chill of early morning and sent the thermometer soaring to 54 during the afternoon, and Mr. von Hermann predicted a continuance for a few days, at least, of the spring weather interrupted last week-end by an unheralded cold wave.

BILL WOULD LIMIT PRESIDENT'S TERM

Washington, February 21.—(AP)—A constitutional amendment to limit to 10 years the service of any one man as president was proposed today by Representative Fairchild, republican, New York.

The amendment would make ineligible for the presidency any person who would have previously served two terms whether by election, or succession due to the removal, death, resignation or inability of the president where the term by succession shall have continued for a period of two years or more.

"President Coolidge served less than half of Harding's unexpired term," Fairchild said in a statement. "If the present congress submits to the states the proposed amendment, there will be sufficient time for action by the several states before the next presidential conventions in 1928."

"With the tradition against a third term thus safeguarded for all time opportunity will be presented in determining a choice for president to give proper consideration to the achievements of President Coolidge, free from all embarrassments and avoiding the risk always involved in a disregard of traditions."

Mr. Fairchild said that the amendment would be introduced in the house of representatives.

Woman's Jaw Locks Tight In Argument

Mrs. Evelyn Walton Taken to Hospital After Talking With Husband.

Miami, Fla., February 21.—(AP)—A husband, according to Miami police today, had the last word in what is said to have been a family argument Sunday night when a police ambulance was called to take Mrs. Evelyn Walton to Jackson Memorial hospital suffering from hysteria and temporary paralysis of the jaw. Mrs. Walton was unable to close her mouth.

Police said the contention came upon her suddenly during an argument with her husband.

Hospital attendants today reported Mrs. Walton was now able to whisper.

Return To Balm Weather Today Ends Cold Spell

Blue skies and balmy weather are slated today for the return of a pleasant and different spring, with the lowest temperature at least a dozen degrees above Monday's low of four points below freezing, according to C. F. von Hermann, meteorologist of the local weather bureau.

Georgia's early budding fruit trees did not suffer from Monday's freeze, Mr. von Hermann stated, pointing out that the freezing weather did not extend south of Macon and that the ground was wet enough Monday night to prevent any serious damage to plants, shrubs and trees that are doing April work.

Monday's warm sunbath routed the chill of early morning and sent the thermometer soaring to 54 during the afternoon, and Mr. von Hermann predicted a continuance for a few days, at least, of the spring weather interrupted last week-end by an unheralded cold wave.

TEXTILE MILLS FORCED TO CLOSE

Woonsocket, R. I., February 21.—(AP)—The Social mill of the Manville-Jencks company was closed down this morning. The employees reported for work as usual and found the following notice posted in most departments: "We are very sorry to be obliged to inform the operators of the Social mill that inasmuch as we have apparently failed to get their cooperation in our efforts to improve operating conditions we shall be obliged to discontinue operations."

Some of the departments are to continue until the present stock is exhausted but they require the services of only a small proportion of the 1,200 operatives employed in the plant.

A month ago, the Manville-Jencks company, operators of four textile plants, sought a conference with business, banking and civic organizations with a view to bringing about a solution of the problem caused by the general textile depression.

At the conference President Jencks told of "appalling losses" during the last two years and said the remedy lay in longer hours of labor, reduced property taxes and greater efficiency on the part of the workers.

Meetings of the Social mill employees have been held but the sentiment has been adverse to longer hours, and poor management has been charged as the real cause of the mill's plight.

The company's Nourse mill in this city has been closed for several months but the other two plants are operating.

SOUTHERN MILLS NOT AFFECTED.

Gastonia, N. C., February 21.—(AP) Closing of the Social mill of the Manville-Jencks Spinning company will have no effect on the southern mills of the company, J. W. Clark, vice president of the company and manager of the firm's southern properties, said here today. The company owns a mill here, which is running full time.

He said that refusal of union employees to permit improvements looking toward increasing output and lowering overhead and to work more than 48 hours a week were responsible.

TO INSPECT PLANTS FOR REFRIGERATION

Charging that certain electrical refrigeration outfits on the market are said to contain "various gases or chemicals" which are liable to cause injury or damage, either as a poison or an explosive if improperly installed, Alderman W. Guy Dobbs, Councilman Sam Waddell and Ellis B. Barrett Monday offered a paper in city council requiring that City Electrician R. C. Turner issue permits for installation of such apparatus and inspect the work.

Mrs. Sebring Dies.

Sebring, Fla., February 21.—(AP)—Mrs. Frank A. Sebring, wife of a prominent pottery manufacturer of Sebring, Ohio, died suddenly at her winter home here yesterday. Mrs. Sebring was a sister-in-law of the late George E. Sebring, who died here recently.

MRS. C. A. MAUCK DIES AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

Mrs. Charles A. Mauck, 68, mother of Hugh A. Mauck, former Georgia Tech football star, died at midnight Monday at her home, 771 West Peachtree street, following a brief illness.

A native of Indiana, Mrs. Mauck moved to Alabama, during her early childhood. For the past 45 years she has made her home in Atlanta.

Mrs. Mauck has been actively engaged in woman's work of the North Georgia Methodist conference for many years and was an officer in the woman's missionary society of the conference for several years. She was at one time an officer in the Federated Church Women's Association of Georgia. She was a member of the Druid Hills Methodist church.

She was one of the best known hospitable people in the state and every week since the world war, visited the sick and wounded soldiers at government hospital No. 48, on Peachtree road.

Funeral arrangements for Mrs. Mauck have not been completed. She is survived by two sons, Hugh M. Mauck, of Fort Myers, Fla., and Mr. W. M. Mauck, of Atlanta; five daughters, Mrs. M. L. Petty, of Brandon, Fla.; Mrs. C. J. Rice, of Candler, N. C.; Mrs. Wallace Rogers, of Atlanta; Mrs. J. B. Perry, of Nabb, Ind.

LAST WITNESS HEARD IN CASE AGAINST RUDNER

Canton, Ohio, February 21.—(AP)—The trial of Ben Rudner, Md., hardware merchant, for the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher, neared completion today as the last witness was heard. Indications were that the case would reach the jury tomorrow after the completion of arguments.

COUNCIL SYMPATHY SENT SICK MEMBER

Resolutions expressing sympathy for Councilman W. E. Saunders, of the 12th ward, Monday were adopted by council and ordered forwarded to him. Mr. Saunders, who is one of the most popular members of the city's governing body, has been ill at his home in Kirkwood for the past several days, and Monday was not able to attend the sessions of that body. The paper was offered by Alderman J. Allen Couch, of the fifth, and was passed unanimously.

Washington's and Stanton's Birthday Celebrated Today

The birthday of the immortal "Father of Our Country," George Washington, will be celebrated with many diversified entertainments today, the cherry tree, hatchery and three-cornered hats, ornamented with red, white and blue cockades, featuring the decorations. Patriotic colors will add a festive note to bridge parties and luncheons.

One hundred and ninety-five years ago George Washington first saw the light of day in the family homestead at Bridges Creek in Westmoreland county, Virginia, and as General Washington, commander-in-chief of the continental army, led his forces to victory by defeating the British, a feat which has forever enshrined him in the hearts of Americans as first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen.

Atlanta will pause to remember that today also commemorates the seventieth birthday of Frank L. Stanton, Georgia's poet laureate, whose pen has been stilled by death, but whose memory is revered and kept in mind through the poetic gems remaining as a legacy to an appreciative posterity.

Hapeville Has Enthusiastic Daddies' Meeting.

One of the most enthusiastic meetings held in Hapeville in some time was "daddies' meeting" held Thursday night in the auditorium of the First Baptist church under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers' association of Hapeville, with Mrs. P. T. Reddick, president, presiding. The auditorium was filled to overflowing and a very interesting program was rendered.

There was a keen spirit of rivalry displayed as there was a prize of $5 offered the grade who had the most daddies present and the prize was won by Mrs. Thomas Lewis' grade.

DEFENSE OF A. E. F. IN SENATE BRINGS ROBINSON OVATION

Washington, February 21.—(AP)—Shattering one of the most sacred rules of the senate, the galleries, women as well as men, vigorously applauded tonight a declaration by Senator Robinson, republican, Indiana, that the soldiers of the A. E. F. were not loafers.

The demonstration came during a colloquy between Robinson and Senator Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, on the part session of congress the provision of the veterans act which reduces compensation paid to temporary disabled veterans receiving hospitalization after next June 1. He said this would get rid of the "loafers" and "gold brickers" in the hospitals.

When Robinson disputed that they were loafers, Reed said that as an officer the Indiana must have called his men "loafers" as did other officers, although he would not refer to them by that term now that he was a senator.

This aroused Senator Robinson, who declared he did not believe the American soldiers who went overseas were "loafers."

Ex-Governor Yates, of Illinois, has introduced the bill in the house and Senator Willis, of Ohio, also has taken a special interest.

Senator Walter F. George, member of the senate military affairs committee, has been quite active in behalf of the bill, but Senator Wadsworth, chairman of the committee, will not agree to report it at this session, as the war department appropriation bill is much larger than in several years and he is opposed to increasing it more.

CROSS AND UPSET

ACHY AND DIZZY

Mrs. Martha Porter, of Italy, Tex., recently made the following statement in regard to her experience with Thedford's Black-Draught which she used for over 40 years in her family.

"Raising a family, I found Black-Draught an invaluable help in maintaining good health among the children. It quickly relieved cases of upset stomach and indigestion. Whenever they would over-eat or begin to get cross from little stomach spells, I would give them Black-Draught and, in a day or so, they would be perfectly well again.

"Whenever I had a bad headache or was feeling dizzy, or achy from the results of constipation, I took Black-Draught myself and got straightened out.

"My health has been very good the last few years. I have had to use very little medicine, but I think Black-Draught is always dependable, and I can recommend it highly after years of use as a family medicine."

Thousands of men and women have found Black-Draught dependable in relieving the many serious symptoms due to constipation, biliousness and indigestion.

Take a dose of Black-Draught today, if you suffer from any of these ailments.

It should help you as it has helped others.

What every mother knows

EVERY mother knows the trials that precede the miracle of bringing a new life into the world! In the effort to build a perfect baby, Nature unhesitatingly makes many demands upon the mother.

To help counteract these conditions doctors frequently prescribe Milk of Magnesia. When your doctor does, insist on getting Squibb's. Its absolute freedom from the "earthy" taste of the ordinary product is particularly welcome at this time. It has just the right fluidity to make it easy to take.

At such a critical time only the best will do. Ask your druggist for "Squibb's." It is "The Standard of Quality."

SQUIBB'S MILK OF MAGNESIA

THE STANDARD OF QUALITY

Starring Dulcie Jayne

By VIRGINIA TRACY.

SYNOPSIS.

Cornelia Marsh, employed in the scenario department of Hertzog's Perfection Motion Picture studio at Fort Lee, N. J., learns with sorrow that Henry Horner, the head of the department, has been fired by Lyman Hertzog, son of the owner of the studio. Every one knows that Lyman is jealous of Henry because he is in love with Dulcie Jayne, the star of the studio, but Dulcie seems to prefer her director, Daniel K. Leland.

Mr. Hertzog suggests to Lyman that they feature Leland as an actor as well as a director, and this causes a quarrel between father and son. Mr. Hertzog suffers a stroke of apoplexy as a result, and Lyman is left in charge of the studio.

INSTALLMENT XXVI. THE MAGIC CARPET.

By virtue of that cool, gray, preoccupied glance, Cornelia had become part of an armed camp, preparing for dawn upon the bank of the Rubicon.

Yet all the man said, when he finally got round to her, was, "Miss Marsh, you wrote a story for Miss Jayne called 'Briar Rose'?"

Outwardly Cornelia merely replied, "Yes, sir."

"We read it together when you first sent it in and talked it over, inside and out. It tempted us tremendously."

Strange world! Unthinkable! To a voiceless and friendless, alone, so obscure, so diligent in the dark and all the while to be talked over "inside and out" by Daniel K. Leland and Dulcie Jayne, to have tempted them tremendously! Tempted them—to what?

He was asking, "do you know whether it's on record that she refused it?"

"Mr. Horner refused it." That's of no consequence. But did he merely return it on his own account? Or has that little Jacobs girl got it down in her catalogue as refused by Miss Jayne?

Rebelling, as will be possible from Leland's latest recital. Even in that whirling moment Cornelia's true heart resented Mr. Horner being called of no consequence. "I don't know. But I'm sure Mr. Horner—"

One does not become a Daniel K. Leland by ignoring the inflections of a woman. He did not say, "Ah, I have a sound-eyed rival," but those furrows on either side of his mouth deepened again. "Well, could you find out without giving me away as wanting to know?"

"Why, I—I'm the author. I could just ask to see the card."

"Right! And if there's no record in Miss Jayne's name, then will you kindly send it in again."

Hitherto Cornelia's heart had been beating in haste and with curiosity, but also decently and in the right place. At these words it shot up to the top of her head, whence finding itself unable to get out, it banged down behind her teeth, rattled there a moment and sank through unplumbed depths, dragging a faint nausea in its wake. "But, Mr. Leland, my only hope was Mr. Horner. It isn't the kind of thing Hertzog's likes. They'll only refuse it right over again."

"Certainly they will. Let them." He said it negligently, but those furrows on either side of his mouth deepened again. "Well, could you find out without giving me away as wanting to know?"

SPOTS IN NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, February 21.—(P)—Spot cotton closed steady at unchanged quotations; sales 5,583; low middling 13.78; middling 13.75; good middling 14.73; receipts 13,400; stock 634,015.

New York, February 21.—(P)—The cotton market was quiet today, except for further liquidation of March contracts which was largely in transferring to later deliveries. Trade interests were again buyers of March against sales of May and July and prices moved within a range of 8 or 10 points. May selling up from 13.92 to 13.96 and closing at 13.95. The general market closed steady at net declines of 7 to 10 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 5 to 7 points in response to relatively easy Liverpool cables, but offerings were light and prices held fairly steady. The market was working up to 13.75 and October to 13.43, on covering and trade buying. A little liquidation during early afternoon accounted for a slight decline, but an easier turn in the stock market, but no pressure of consequence developed and offerings were absorbed in a decline of 6 or 7 points from the high levels of the morning.

Rather conflicting opinions were expressed as to what might be expected in the way of cotton on Wednesday, but it seemed the general impression toward the close that nearly all the certified stock of about 157,000 bales would be tendered on Wednesday. More cotton is said to be coming here, with a probability that the certified stock will be increased to over 200,000 bales within the next few days, but trade interests seemed willing to buy all the March there was for sale yesterday at a discount of 25 to 25 points under May. At the close the difference was 25 points compared with 23 points at the close of Saturday.

Private cables said there had been some hedge selling and liquidation in Liverpool, but reported continued good demand for yarns and cotton cloths. There was very little cotton sold, but at any time during the day, and private advices from the south reported a continued steady spot basis. All the American market was closed tomorrow, and uncertainty as to what Liverpool may do over the

COTTON MILLS AIDED IN TAX DECISION

In a decision handed down by the United States board of tax appeals on February 18 in the case of a Georgia cotton mill, an inventory question was decided in favor of the mill, which will be of considerable benefit to cotton mills who sold their product through selling agents, mill executives in a great many instances it was the practice of cotton mills to credit sales and charge their selling agents with orders. The decision of the board, which was handed down by the appeals, held that the passage of the law, which provided that such goods outstanding at the end of a taxable year should be inventoried instead of being credited to sales, applied to the case.

The second study in a series of lectures on "The Mountain Peaks in the Life of Christ" being given before the Bible club of the Young Men's Christian association, by the Rev. Broadus E. Jones will be held in the dining room of the association building, 75 Luckie street, tonight.

Trade interests were again buyers of March against sales of May and July and prices moved within a range of 8 or 10 points. May selling up from 13.92 to 13.96 and closing at 13.95. The general market closed steady at net declines of 7 to 10 points.

THE SCENES OF FEVERISH PREPARATION FOR WAR, FOUND EVERYWHERE IN THE NORTH, FOLLOWING PRESIDENT LINCOLN'S CALL FOR TROOPS, WERE DUPLICATED THROUGHOUT THE SOUTH. FROM TOWNS AND PLANTATIONS THE "SONS OF DIXIE" SPRANG TO ARMS TO RESIST WHAT THEY CONSIDERED AN ATTEMPT TO "OVERAWAY, OPPRESS AND FINALLY SUBJUGATE THE PEOPLE OF THE CONFEDERATE STATES."

PRESIDENT JEFFERSON DAVIS OF THE CONFEDERACY, HIMSELF A WEST POINT GRADUATE AND DISTINGUISHED VETERAN OF THE MEXICAN WAR, SHOWED GREAT ENERGY IN BRINGING THE SOUTH TO A STATE OF PREPAREDNESS. HE CALLED FOR 100,000 VOLUNTEERS AND NEGOTIATED LOANS TO CARRY ON THE WAR.

The South Prepares for War.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

© McClure Newspaper Syndicate

THE SLAVE-OWNERS, WHO FORMED A MINORITY OF THE POPULATION OF THE SOUTH, HAD URGED SECESSION IN THE INTEREST OF SLAVERY, BUT IT WAS THE THREATENED INVASION OF THE SOUTHLAND BY FEDERAL ARMIES THAT CAUSED THE GREAT MASS OF SOUTHERNERS TO RISE AS ONE MAN TO THE DEFENSE OF THE CONFEDERACY.

THE SOUTH HAD NO NAVY AT THE BEGINNING OF THE WAR. TO STRIKE A BLOW AGAINST THE UNION AT SEA, JEFFERSON DAVIS ISSUED A PROCLAMATION (APRIL 17, 1861), AUTHORIZING THE FITTING OUT OF CONFEDERATE PRIVATEERS AND COMMERCE DESTROYERS.
